

Find the Knight

The king awoke from his nap with a fright and cried to his men, "Find the knight!"

The men all sighed and ran far and wide to see if they could find the knight.

Alas, they could not get sight of him anywhere.

"Have you tried to look on the other side of Smiling River," the king asked.

"Yes," replied the men. "There is nowhere for him to hide."

"Well, he didn't fly away into the sky," the king said.

"Check high and low until the last of the sun's light!"

"One of the king's men stepped up and cried, "You can rely on me! I will save you from your plight. I will fight for my king!"

"Fight?" the king asked with a smile. "No, I forgot that tonight is the knight's birthday and I want to invite him for punch and pie!"
